

Welcome to the Pub

Hi and welcome to the site! Most of you probably know me, I'm Roger, the guy in the corner who was always taking pictures at the pub. I recently saw this domain had become available, and rather than let it become another spam site, I decided to put up this memorial. This is for Jack and Tim, and also Steve. The bar's gone, and so are they, but never will they be forgotten.

I hope this site will be a place for old friends to reconnect, a place to keep the dream alive, and maybe a place for something new to start. It's just an experiment, but something I felt I needed to do. I hope you like it.
